Did you know?

The Southern Cross is the smallest constellation and is officially called Crux, Latin for cross.

PLANETARIUM AND THE BOTANIC GARDENS

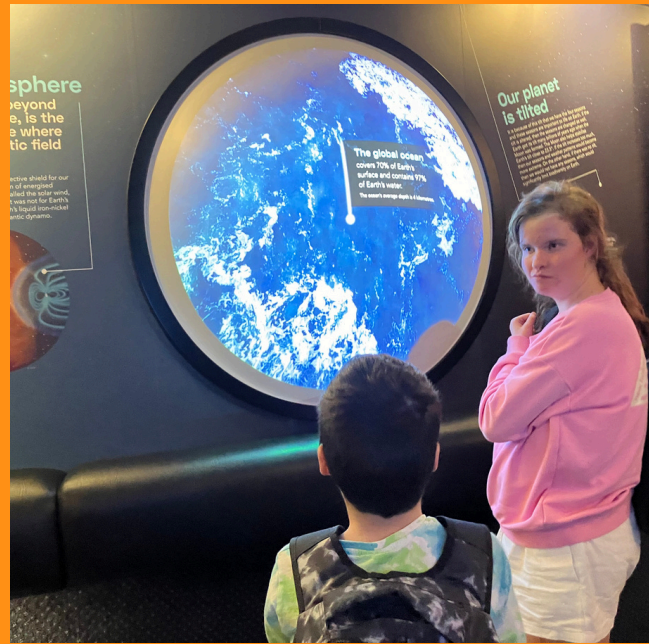

On Saturday, we ventured to the Sir Thomas Brisbane Planetarium in Mt Coot-tha. The planetarium is home to the Cosmic Skydome where we were treated to a movie about aliens who visited our solar system and learnt about each planet before selecting Earth for their holiday. "Perfect Little Planet" was a beautiful story which was followed by a tour of the Brisbane night sky throughout the passing seasons. The children loved sharing the facts they already knew about space with each other, and reading all of the information found throughout the displays of the planetarium. We returned back to Earth and enjoyed a picnic lunch in the beautiful Botanic Gardens; such a perfect way to spend the first weekend of Spring!

PINE VALLEY MINIATURE RAILWAY

On Sunday, we travelled to Pine Valley Miniature Railway which is always a fun excursion. We rode the miniature steam trains through the wonderful trail full of tunnels and bridges. One of the engineers explained to us how the coal heats the combustion engine and that the water is then heated which creates the steam that drives the engine. He also shared a piece of coal with us that we got to examine and then take home to show our families.
